At 10:40 the Senate adjourned until Friday at noon.

Breweries Stop Work.

CHICAGO, July 4.—All of the breweries have decided to stop work for the present and not burn fuel for anything but ice machines, as the coal supply is very low and as long as the strike lasted they could not get more. All of the hands will be kept on the pay rolls.

None of the meat packers have been able to move any cars yet and are still doing nothing. Swift & Co. attempted to move some of the thirty-nine cars that they have had on the siding filled with dressed beef, but could do nothing with them.

Strikers Ugly and Trouble Expected.

SACRAMENTO, July 4.—The strikers, flushed with the victory of yesterday, are in a very ugly mood and trouble is expected at any moment, as they declare they will not allow any train to move that has Pullman cars attached. The outlook here is far from encouraging, and bloodshed is feared if the strikers still persist in their determination to stop the running of Pullman cars.

Everything Quiet.

KANSAS CITY, July 4.—Everything quiet here now and no new developments in the situation during the past twenty-four hours.

Situation Unchanged.

ST. LOUIS, July 4.—The strike situation is still unchanged at this place.

THE RACES.

Bicycle Events at Greensboro Today—South Carolina Represented.

GREENSBORO, July 4.—Today is a perfect day for the races. The champion of South Carolina is in the list for the bicycle contest and the speediest riders in the state are here.

There are several events for very good prizes and this is one of the largest bicycle meets ever held in the state.

Of course Greensboro's champion, Fitzsimmons, and numerous lesser lights are in it today.

United States Troops in the Field.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GLOBE.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The United States troops are in the field in active operation against striking railroad employees at Chicago. The United States marshals at Sacramento have called for state troops to protect railroad property, and requests the various district attorneys of Indiana, Michigan, Idaho California and other states for the authority to file injunctions in the United States court similar to the Chicago injunction.

This is the present condition of the strike gathered from official dispatches received by the attorney general and the war department. It was not anticipated this morning that troops would be needed at any other point than those mentioned, except at Helena, to quiet the disorder and prevent the destruction of property by the strikers.

Troops Ordered to Chicago.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GLOBE.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—Yesterday at 4 o'clock orders were telegraphed to Col. Martin, the adjutant general at General Miles' headquarters in Chicago that the troops under the command of Colonel Crofton, at Fort Sheridan, consisting of eight companies of infantry, two troops of cavalry and a battery of light artillery ordered to Chicago to enforce the observance of the laws of the United States.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GLOBE.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Richard Crocker arrived on the Majestic this morning from Europe, in time to take part in the Tammany Fourth of July celebration. He was warmly welcomed by his friends.

Situation at Chicago.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GLOBE.

CHICAGO, July 4.—At 4 p. m. there is no change apparent in the strike situation here this evening.

To Sue the Town.

At the meeting of the town commissioners last evening Mr. James Davis presented a petition, through his attorneys, asking for the sum of two thousand dollars damages for false arrest and assault. This is a mere matter of form, as he intends suing the town for that sum at the next term of the superior court. The facts in the case are: On June 8 there was a little difficulty between two of the citizens of the town on the corner of Church and Main streets and Mr. Davis attempted to stop the matter, when he was arrested by Officer Scarlett, who thought that he was involved in the affray. Davis claims that he was handled very roughly and arrested without cause. Officer Scarlett released him just before arriving at the jail door, on the assurance of several of the citizens who had witnessed the affair that Mr. Davis had done nothing but attempt to stop the trouble.

Death of Mrs. Stone.

We are deeply grieved to announce the death of Mrs. Will H. Stone, which sad event occurred shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon from the effects of child birth.

Mrs. Stone was an estimable lady and was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends. She was the daughter of Mr. Theophilus Moore, formerly of North Carolina, but who some years ago moved to Florida.

THE GLOBE extends its sympathy to the bereaved husband, family and friends. Notice of funeral will appear tomorrow.

News from Willardville.

FROM THE GLOBE CORRESPONDENT.

WILLARDSVILLE, July 3.—Mrs. L. H. Jones and Miss Fannie Mangum, of Flat River spent several days last week at Morehead City attending the teachers meeting.

There was a ventriloquist aboard the 7 o'clock passenger train Sunday evening and it seemed that the passengers were not aware of the fact from the way they examined underneath the coach when the train drew up at Willardville.

Quite a number of people from Willardville will go down to the people's party county convention to be held in Durham Wednesday, July 4.

Another Jail Delivery.

NEWS-OBSERVER-CHRONICLE.

WINSTON, N. C., July 3.—Five prisoners broke out of Yadkin county jail last night and are still at large. One of the number is in for robbing and burning a house at Booneville. No further particulars learned.

FOURTH AT GREENSBORO!

An Immense Crowd Throgs the City.

MR. STEVENSON IS THERE

Professor Alderman the Orator of the Day.

Every Train Entering the City Is Crowded with Visitors—Quite a Number of Durham People Present—The Penn-Hooper Monument Dedicated—Marshals Dressed in Continental Uniforms.

From a Staff Correspondent.

GREENSBORO, July 4.—10 A. M.—Every train coming into the city is crowded with visitors and vehicles by the hundred are bringing in the crowd. Thousands are here from every part of the state, all to join in the celebration of the Glorious Fourth at the Guilford Battle Ground, near this place.

Vice-President Stevenson and party arrived this morning on the vestibule and are at the Benbow. In the party are the two Misses Stevenson and Miss Scott, the vice-president's niece.

Among the Durham people here are Col. J. S. Carr, Miss Lida Carr, J. H. Mahler, W. W. Fuller, H. Seeman, Will Dowd, A. H. Yearby, Dr. L. W. Crawford, E. W. Faucette and others.

The orator of the day is Prof. E. A. Alderman, of the State University, and his subject is "The Life of William Hooper," one of the North Carolina signers of the Declaration of Independence. The address has been carefully prepared and will no doubt measure up to the occasion.

Today the monument erected over the remains of John Penn and William Hooper is dedicated. Their bones rest in the soil of the Guilford Battle Ground.

This old battle-field, sacred with the blood of revolutionary heroes, is being rapidly transformed into a beautiful place, and year by year the attractions are added to by the removal of the dust of some revolutionary statesman or hero from their graves to a new sleeping place in the sod of the old battle-field.

Some handsome monuments have arisen in the field. The solid block of granite, with handsome bronze plates, to the memory of the Marylanders; the beautiful shaft erected to the memory of the soldiers of Alamance by Governor Holt; the battle monument; the monument that is over all that is mortal of General Jethro Sumner, all add to the interest and beauty of the place.

Old revolutionary cannon, with the solid shot of their day, stand on the ground. A museum filled with relics of the revolutionary, portraits of its heroes, their guns, their swords, their knee-buckles, the buttons from their coats, their powder horns, and all the paraphernalia of the minute men, the militia and the regulars.

Usually the old battle-ground is a quiet place with only the wind to stir its leafy trees and wave its green grasses, but to day all is changed. Thousands of happy citizens of a great land gather to pay tribute to their country's natal day. They are here from the vice president of the United States down to the factory boy in his Sunday clothes and the negro in his rags. It is a merry, happy crowd—and the spirit of the Fourth is here.

In the old metaphor, "the Eagle screams, and the British Lion's tail is twisted."

The marshals of the day are ten in number and are dressed in the Continental uniform. One of them is Fuller Reid, well known in Durham.

President Stevenson, the Misses Stevenson, Miss Scott, and a party of the other "guests of the day" are just leaving for the battle ground.

Trains run between Greensboro and the battle ground every half hour, and the roads are filled with every variety of vehicle carrying the crowds to and from the place.

Of course the Battle Ground officers, Judge Schenck, Col. Morehead and the others, are busy as the proverbial bee, looking after every incident of the celebration.

The clouds that lowered and threatened this morning have cleared and the day is perfect.

GREENSBORO, July 4.—President Winston left this morning for Spartanburg, S. C., where he goes to deliver an address before the South Carolina teachers' association. He says if Prof. Denny is the "Moving Whirlwind" he is said to be the state colleges will have to "move further" when he gets at the head of Trinity college.

GREENSBORO, N. C. July 4.—Professor E. A. Alderman's oration at Guilford Battle Ground today was splendid. The diction and delivery were fine; the audience was charmed.

Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson made a good speech. There were speeches from Judge Simonton, of South

An immense crowd was present and a great day is chronicled for North Carolina.

THIRD PARTY CONVENTION

Met in the Court House This Morning.

A LARGE CROWD PRESENT

John R. Hutchings Addressed the Meeting.

A Harmonious Meeting—Speeches Were Made by Major Guthrie and D. C. Mangum—Delegates Were Appointed to Attend the State, Congressional and Judicial Conventions.

The people's party held a county convention in the court house in Durham this morning to elect delegates to the State, Judicial and Congressional conventions.

The convention was composed of delegates regularly elected from township primaries. About 150 were present and the meeting was quiet throughout. Much interest was manifested.

The following delegates were elected: Durham Township—State, W. P. Haley and W. P. T. Neal; congressional, J. E. Lyon, J. E. Cole and J. T. Cash; judicial, J. K. Chambliss, W. W. Wood and J. W. Ferrell.

Patterson Township—State, C. W. Mason and R. I. Patterson; congressional, Pat H. Massey and W. H. Atkins; judicial, J. H. Barbee and O. J. W. Perry.

Cedar Fork Township—State, J. R. Page and Hugh Green; congressional, Henry O'Brien and J. H. Shipp; judicial, Joseph Hopson and R. L. Shipp.

Lebanon Township—State, J. N. W. Latta and S. G. Flinton; congressional, W. S. Terry and J. E. Rogers; judicial, Kinch Holloway and G. W. Flinton.

Oak Grove Township—State, T. J. Holway and J. L. Hall; congressional, M. B. Durham and W. G. Page; judicial, J. T. Rogers and I. M. Carpenter.

Mangum Township—State, J. F. M. Terry and H. L. Umstead; congressional, A. J. Roberts and W. T. Mangum; judicial, D. B. Roberts and J. W. Umstead.

Delegates at Large—State, D. C. Mangum and Rev. P. H. Massey; congressional, J. R. Hutchings and F. W. Ball; judicial, A. M. Leathers and Stanford Pickett.

The meeting adjourned about 12:30, to meet at 1 p. m. to be addressed by Rev. P. H. Massey.

A good sized audience assembled in the court house to be addressed by Rev. P. H. Massey, but as he did not come J. R. Hutchings addressed the people. He arraigned both old political parties as being against the interest of the people. History tells of no old party or church giving reform.

D. C. Mangum was called up and urged the party to effect a compact organization and push the canvass.

Major W. A. Guthrie was next called. At first he did not respond, but finally arose from a back seat and walked to the platform amid much applause.

The major said that he did not come to make a speech, but was not afraid to speak out his convictions. "We all know that our country is in a crisis; we know that for thirty years we have voted from prejudice; the representatives of the two old parties who have just preceded me, have told you that parties have proven false; today the daily papers charge a member of the cabinet, one high in authority, with making $104,000 for his own pocket, by speculating in sugar. We learn from the Roman republic a lesson; it is this: the government became so corrupt that public offices were sold to the highest bidder; we are not far from that today; for ten years I have been a political orphan; could not ally myself with party; I have not left the republican party, it has left me; let us all come together and get on a platform of patriotism and put good men in office, men in touch with the people; men say that they are democrats or republicans and do not know what it means." He briefly reviewed the trouble in Chicago and asked how long the country could stand it. Our statesmen have been looking after their own interest instead of the people. He wanted to see the country in the hands of an independent party, and wanted the people to come together with honest hearts, and try something new; we have all gone astray; we need statesmen; this is not a government of the people and for the interests of the people; I would rather trust the humblest honest man in office, than the most gifted man who would sell himself for gold; it is a common saying that foreign capital rules Wall street, and Wall street rules our country; this will be changed, if necessary, by arms.
